County of BUCKINGHAM.

The boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Buckingham are identical.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into three Divisions; it also includes a portion of the Parliamentary Borough of New Windsor. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes two Municipal Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions—where such sub-divisions exist—are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 12 Petty Sessional Divisions; the Boroughs of Buckingham and Chipping Wycombe have separate Commissions of the Peace. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 221 Civil Parishes, and parts of 3 others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 207 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, with parts of 9 others, and is almost wholly in the Diocese of Oxford. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of CAMBRIDGE.

The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County of Cambridge and those of the Administrative Counties of Cambridge and the Isle of Ely are shown in detail in Tables 3 and 4.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into three Divisions; it also includes the Parliamentary Borough of Cambridge. (Table 2.) The University of Cambridge is also a Parliamentary Constituency.

The Administrative Counties of Cambridge and the Isle of Ely include two Municipal Boroughs the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative Counties of Cambridge and the Isle of Ely have each a Court of Quarter Sessions, and between them 10 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Borough of Cambridge has a separate Commission of the Peace, and a separate Court of Quarter Sessions. The Borough of Wisbech has a separate Commission of the Peace, but not a separate Court of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative Counties contain 172 entire Civil Parishes, and parts of 4 others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 181 Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, with parts of 12 others, most of which are in the Diocese of Ely. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of CHESTER.

The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Chester, together with the County Boroughs of Birkenhead, Chester, and Stockport, are shown in detail in Table 3.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into eight Divisions; it also includes the Parliamentary Borough of Birkenhead, and parts of the Boroughs of Ashton under Lyne, Chester, Stalybridge, Stockport, and Warrington. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes five Municipal Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which, as well as of the County Boroughs, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 14 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Congleton, Crewe, Macclesfield, Stalybridge, and Stockport, have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the County Boroughs of Birkenhead, and Chester (City) have both separate Commissions of the Peace and separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 463 entire Civil Parishes, and the County Boroughs of Birkenhead, Chester, and Stockport, 4, 1, and 1 respectively; there are besides 3 parishes which are situated partly in the County and partly in the County Boroughs, and 7 which are situated partly in other Administrative Counties. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 254 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts and parts of 8 others; it is situated partly in the Dioceses of Chester, Lichfield, Manchester, and St. Asaph. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of CORNWALL.

The boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Cornwall are co-extensive.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into six Divisions; it also includes the Parliamentary Borough of Penryn and Falmouth. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes eleven Municipal Boroughs, the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and 17 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Bodmin, Falmouth, Helston, Launceston, Liskeard, Penryn, Penzance, St. Ives, and Truro have separate Commissions of the Peace; the Borough of Penzance has, in addition, a separate Court of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 222 entire Civil Parishes. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 227 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts with part of one other, and is entirely in the Diocese of Truro. (Table 8.)

The areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of DERBY.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into seven Divisions; it also includes the Parliamentary Borough of Derby. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes three Municipal Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which, as well as of the County Borough, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 16 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Derby, Chesterfield, and Glossop have Separate Commissions of the Peace, and Derby has also a Separate Court of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 304, and the County Borough of Derby 8 entire Civil Parishes; there are also 5 parishes which are partly situated in other Administrative Counties, and one which is partly in the County and partly in the County Borough. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 240 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts and parts of 11 others; it is situated partly in the Dioceses of Lichfield, Peterborough, and Southwell. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

The Administrative County of Devon contains 451 entire Civil Parishes and part of 1 other; the County Borough of Devonport contains one entire Civil Parish; the County Borough of Exeter contains 22 entire Civil Parishes and part of 1 other; and the County Borough of Plymouth contains 2 entire Civil Parishes. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 506 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, and parts of 5 others, and is almost entirely in the Diocese of Exeter. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of DORSET.

The boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Dorset are co-extensive. (Table 3.)

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into four Divisions. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes eight Municipal Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and nine Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Bridport, Dorchester, Lyme Regis, Poole, and Weymouth and Melcombe Regis have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the Borough of Poole has, in addition, a separate Court of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 287 entire Civil Parishes. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 254 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts and parts of 5 others, and is almost entirely in the Diocese of Salisbury. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of ESSEX.

The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Essex, together with the County Borough of West Ham, are shown in detail in Table 3.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into eight Divisions; it also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Colchester and West Ham, the latter consisting of two Divisions. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes six Municipal Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which, where such sub-divisions exist, as well as of the County Borough, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and is divided into 17 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Colchester, Maldon, Saffron Walden, Harwich, and West Ham, have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the three first-named have also separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. The Liberty of Havering-atte-Bower is shown in the Table as having its own Court of Quarter Sessions, but it ceased to have a separate Court on 1st July 1892, at the end of which year, however, the constitution of another Petty Sessional Division to include the parishes comprised in this Liberty had not, although under consideration, taken place. (Table 6.) The Central Criminal Court has jurisdiction over certain Civil Parishes adjacent to London. All those Civil Parishes within the County of Essex, of which any part is within 12 miles of, or of which no part is more than 15 miles from Charing Cross, are within the Metropolitan Police District. (Table D. of Division 1, Vol. 2.)

The Administrative County contains 410, and the County Borough of West Ham one, entire Civil Parishes; there are also 3 Civil Parishes which are situated partly in other Administrative Counties. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 436 Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts and parts of 8 others; it is situated partly in the Dioceses of Ely and St. Albans. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

* By "Civil Parish or Township" is meant a place in which a poor rate is separately levied.

† The Registration Districts referred to in this Table are co-extensive with Poor Law Unions except Royston (132) which includes the two Unions of Royston and Buntingford; in this case the name of the Union and not of the Registration District is given. The numbers in the column indicate the topographical order of the Registration Districts in Volume II.

‡ This parish is partly in the Administrative County of West Suffolk, the part in which County, however, contains no population.

County of GLOUCESTER.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into five Divisions. It also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Cheltenham and Gloucester and the greater part of the Parliamentary Borough of Bristol, consisting of four Divisions. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes two Municipal Boroughs, exclusive of the County Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and 24 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Bristol, Gloucester, and Tewkesbury have separate Commissions of the Peace and separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 342 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 7 others; the County Borough of Bristol contains 21 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 2 others, and the County Borough of Gloucester 13 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 2 others. (Table 7.)

The Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts in the Ancient County number 392, with parts of 10 others, and belong almost entirely to the Diocese of Gloucester and Bristol. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of HANTS (SOUTHAMPTON).

The boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County of Hants are co-extensive with those of the Administrative Counties of Southampton and the Isle of Wight, together with the County Boroughs of Portsmouth and Southampton.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into six Divisions, including the Isle of Wight. It also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Christchurch, Portsmouth, Southampton, and Winchester. (Table 2.)

In the Administrative Counties of Southampton and the Isle of Wight there are nine Municipal Boroughs, exclusive of the County Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative Counties of Southampton and the Isle of Wight together have one Court of Quarter Sessions and 14 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Andover, Basingstoke, Lymington, Newport, Portsmouth, Romsey, Ryde, Southampton, and Winchester, have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the Boroughs of Andover, Portsmouth, Southampton, and Winchester have, in addition, separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County of Southampton contains 307 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 2 others; that of the Isle of Wight, 32 entire Civil Parishes; the County Borough of Portsmouth, 2 entire Civil Parishes; and the County Borough of Southampton, 6 entire Civil Parishes and part of another. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 396 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts and parts of 7 others, and is almost entirely in the Diocese of Winchester. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

† The Registration Districts referred to in this table are co-extensive with Poor Law Unions, except Winchester, which includes the two Unions of Hursley and New Winchester; in these cases the name of the Union and not of the Registration District is given. The numbers in the column indicate the topographical order of the Registration Districts in Volume II.

								129,914	690,097	ANCIENT COUNTY -

County of HEREFORD.

The boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Hereford are co-extensive.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into two Divisions. It also includes the Parliamentary Borough of Hereford. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes two Municipal Boroughs, the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which are shown in Table 5.

The County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and 11 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Hereford and Leominster have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the Borough of Hereford has, in addition, a separate Court of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 255 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 3 others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 200 entire Ecclesiastical Districts or Parishes, and parts of 20 others, which are almost entirely in the Diocese of Hereford. (Table 8.)

The areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of HERTFORD.

The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Hertford are shown in Table 3.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into four Divisions. (Table 2).

The Administrative County includes two Municipal Boroughs, the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which, where such exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has two Courts of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 14 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Hertford and St. Albans (City) have Separate Commissions of the Peace. (Table 6.)

All those Civil Parishes within the County of which any part is within 12 miles of, or of which no part is more than 15 miles from Charing Cross, are included in the Metropolitan Police District. (Table D. of Division 1, Vol. 2.)

The Administrative County contains 140 entire Civil Parishes, and parts of 5 others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 159 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, and parts of 8 others; most of which are in the Diocese of St. Albans. (Table 8.)

The areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of KENT.

The Ancient or Geographical County of Kent includes Metropolitan Parishes south of the Thames which now form part of the County of London. The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient and those of the Administrative County, together with the County Borough of Canterbury, are shown in detail in Table 3.

The Ancient County, exclusive of the Metropolitan Parishes, is divided for Parliamentary purposes into eight Divisions. It also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Canterbury, Chatham, Dover, Gravesend, Hythe, Maidstone, and Rochester. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes 17 Municipal Boroughs, exclusive of the County Borough; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and 15 Petty Sessional Divisions; the non-corporate members of the Cinque Ports of Dover and Sandwich and the Municipal Boroughs of Canterbury, Deal, Dover, Faversham, Folkestone, Gravesend, Hythe, Maidstone, Margate, Rochester, Sandwich, and Tenterden have each separate Commissions of the Peace and separate Courts of Quarter Sessions, and the Boroughs of Lydd and New Romney have separate Commissions of the Peace only (Table 6). The Central Criminal Court has jurisdiction over certain parishes adjacent to London. All those Civil Parishes within the County of Kent of which any part is within 12 miles of, or of which no part is more than 15 miles from, Charing Cross, are within the Metropolitan Police District. (Table D of Division I Volume II.)

The Administrative County contains 389 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 14 others, and the County Borough of Canterbury 24 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 10 others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains, in addition to those parishes now in the County of London, 465 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes with parts of 5 others, situated in the Dioceses of Canterbury, Rochester, and Chichester. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of LANCASTER.

The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County Palatine and those of the Administrative County of Lancaster, together with 14 County Boroughs, are shown in detail in Table 3.

The four divisions of the Ancient County, viz., North Lancashire, North-East Lancashire, South-East Lancashire, and South-West Lancashire, are subdivided for Parliamentary purposes into 23 Divisions; the County also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Barrow in Furness, Blackburn, Bolton, Burnley, Bury, Liverpool, Manchester, Oldham, Preston, Rochdale, St. Helens, Salford, and Wigan, and parts of Ashton under Lyne, Stalybridge, Stockport, and Warrington. The Cities of Liverpool and Manchester, and the Borough of Salford, contain 9, 6, and 3 Divisions respectively. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes 18 Municipal Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which, and of the County Boroughs, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 34 Petty Sessional Divisions. Twenty-five of the Municipal and County Boroughs have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the Boroughs of Blackburn, Bolton, Liverpool (City), Manchester (City), Oldham, Salford, and Wigan have also separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 380, and the 14 County Boroughs together 34, entire Civil Parishes; there are besides 35 parishes which are situated partly in the County and partly in the County Boroughs, and 7 which are partly in other Administrative Counties. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 730 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts and parts of 10 others; it is situated partly in the Dioceses of Carlisle, Chester, Liverpool, Manchester, Ripon, and Wakefield. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of LINCOLN.

The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County of Lincoln and those of the combined Administrative Counties of the Parts of Holland, Kesteven, and Lindsey, together with the County Boroughs of Grimsby and Lincoln (City), are shown in Table 3.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into 7 Divisions; it also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Boston, Grantham, Grimsby, and Lincoln. (Table 2.)

The three Administrative Counties, namely, the Parts of Holland, Kesteven, and Lindsey include 4 Municipal Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which, and of the County Boroughs, are shown in Table 5.

Each of the three Administrative Counties has a separate Court of Quarter Sessions; the Parts of Holland are divided into 2, the Parts of Kesteven into 4, and the Parts of Lindsey into 14 Petty Sessional Divisions. The City of Lincoln and the Boroughs of Grantham, Grimsby, and Stamford have separate Commissions of the Peace and separate Courts of Quarter Sessions, and the Boroughs of Boston and Louth have separate Commissions of the Peace, but no separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The three Administrative Counties of the Parts of Holland, Kesteven, and Lindsey, contain respectively 55, 211, and 458 entire Civil Parishes, the County Borough of Grimsby one entire Parish, and the County Borough of Lincoln (City) 18 entire Parishes; these Administrative Areas together also contain 4 other entire Civil Parishes and parts of 2 Parishes which are situated partly in other Administrative Counties. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 581 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts, and parts of four others; it is situated partly in the Dioceses of Lincoln, Southwell, and York. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

‡ By Act 19 & 20 Vict. c. 65. (Local), which constituted the Civil Parish of Deeping St. Nicholas out of lands situated both in the Parts of Holland and in the Parts of Kesteven, it was provided in section 52 that this parish should be "deemed to be altogether in the Parts of Holland;" it was also provided that the County Rate should continue to be paid to the respective Treasurers for the Parts of Holland and Kesteven within which such lands were situated. The Clerk of the Peace for the Parts of Kesteven states that the County Rate is thus paid at the present time, and hence the parish is shown in the Census Tables as situated partly in both Administrative Counties.

* The parish of Wildmore consists of detached parts of 30 Ancient Parishes, and the formerly Extra-Parochial place Copping Syke.

County of LONDON.

The area of the Administrative County of London, including the City of London, is co-extensive with that of the former District of the Metropolitan Board of Works as defined in the Act 18 & 19 Vict. c. 120.; it also corresponds with the Registration County of London with the addition of the Hamlet or Civil Parish of Penge. The County includes parts of the Ancient Counties of Middlesex, Surrey, and Kent. (Table 3.)

The County contains the Parliamentary City of London and 27 other Parliamentary Boroughs, most of which are sub-divided, the number of Constituencies being 58 (Table 2). The London University forms an additional Constituency.

The County contains one Municipal Borough, viz., the City of London, the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which are shown in Table 5.

The County, excluding the City of London and the Liberty of the Tower, has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 17 Petty Sessional Divisions (Table 6). The entire County is under the jurisdiction of the Central Criminal Court.

The County, including the City of London, contains 196 Civil Parishes (Table 7). There are 581 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and parts of 11 others; the County is situated partly in the Dioceses of Canterbury, London, Rochester, and St. Albans. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of MIDDLESEX.

The Ancient or Geographical County of Middlesex includes Metropolitan Parishes north of the Thames (except North Woolwich), which now form part of the Administrative County of London. The differences between the Ancient County and the Administrative County of Middlesex are shown in Table 3.

The Ancient County, exclusive of the Metropolitan Parishes, is divided for Parliamentary purposes into seven Divisions.* (Table 2.)

With the exception of the City of London, which has a separate Police Force, the County of Middlesex is wholly within the Metropolitan Police District (Table D. of Division I., Vol. 2) and the jurisdiction of the Central Criminal Court. The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into eight Petty Sessional Divisions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 50 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 2 others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains, exclusive of those parishes now in the County of London, 122 Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, and parts of 11 others, most of which are in the Diocese of London. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into three Divisions; it also includes the Monmouth District of Boroughs, consisting of the Contributory Boroughs of Monmouth, Newport, and Usk. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes one Municipal Borough, namely, Monmouth. The Municipal Ward sub-divisions of the County Borough of Newport are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 11 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Monmouth and Newport have separate Commissions of the Peace, but no separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 140, and the County Borough of Newport one, entire Civil Parishes; there are also 4 Parishes which are situated partly in other Administrative Counties, and 3 which are partly in the County and partly in the County Borough. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 120 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts, and parts of 7 others; it is situated partly in the Diocese of Llandaff and partly in that of Hereford. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of NORFOLK.

The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Norfolk, together with the County Boroughs of Norwich (City) and Great Yarmouth, are shown in detail in Table 3.

The Ancient County is divided, for Parliamentary purposes, into 6 Divisions; it also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of King's Lynn and Norwich (City) and part of the Borough of Great Yarmouth (Table 2).

The Administrative County of Norfolk includes the Municipal Boroughs of King's Lynn and Thetford; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of the former and of the County Boroughs are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has two Courts of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 25 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of King's Lynn, Norwich (City), Thetford, and Great Yarmouth have separate Commissions of the Peace and separate Courts of Quarter Sessions (Table 6).

The Administrative County contains 692, the County Borough of Norwich one, and the County Borough of Great Yarmouth two, entire Civil Parishes; there are also 3 Civil Parishes which are partly in other Administrative Counties and one which is partly in the Administrative County of Norfolk and partly in the County Borough of Great Yarmouth (Table 7).

The Ancient County contains 595 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts, and parts of 13 others; it is situated partly in the Dioceses of Ely, Lincoln, and Norwich (Table 8).

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County, and those of the Administrative County of Northampton, together with the Administrative County of the Soke of Peterborough and the County Borough of Northampton, are shown in Table 3.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into four Divisions; it also includes the Parliamentary Borough of Northampton and part of the Parliamentary Borough of Peterborough (City). (Table 2.)

The Administrative Counties of Northampton and the Soke of Peterborough include four Municipal Boroughs exclusive of the County Borough; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County of Northampton has one Court of Quarter Sessions and nine Petty Sessional Divisions. The County Borough of Northampton and the Liberty of the Soke of Peterborough have each a separate Court of Quarter Sessions and a separate Commission of the Peace. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County of Northampton contains 301 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 7 others; the Soke of Peterborough contains 29 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 3 others; and the County Borough of Northampton contains 5 entire Civil Parishes. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County of Northampton contains 288 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, with parts of 10 others, most of which are in the Diocese of Peterborough. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of NORTHUMBERLAND.

The boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Northumberland, together with the County Borough of Newcastle upon Tyne, are co-extensive.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into four Divisions. It also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Morpeth, Newcastle upon Tyne, and Tynemouth. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes three Municipal Boroughs, exclusive of the County Borough; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and is divided into 13 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Berwick upon Tweed and Newcastle upon Tyne have separate Courts of Quarter Sessions and separate Commissions of the Peace, and the Borough of Tynemouth has only a separate Commission of the Peace. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 503 entire Civil Parishes, and the County Borough of Newcastle upon Tyne contains 9 entire Civil Parishes. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 159 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, and is entirely in the Diocese of Newcastle. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

The Administrative County of Nottingham, together with the County Borough of Nottingham, is co-extensive with the Ancient County.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into four Divisions; it also includes the Borough of Nottingham, which consists of three Divisions. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes three Municipal Boroughs, the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which, as well as of the County Borough, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County contains 259, and the County Borough of Nottingham 9 entire Civil Parishes; there are also 4 parishes which are situated partly in the County and partly in the County Borough, and 3 others which are partly in other Administrative Counties. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 220 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts and parts of 6 others; it is situated partly in the Diocese of Southwell and partly in that of York. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from Returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

* The greater part of this parish, containing 2,365 inhabited houses and 10,957 population, is in the County Borough of Nottingham.

† The civil parish of Misson was deemed by the local authorities to be situated partly in Lincolnshire and partly in Nottinghamshire until the year 1886, when, in consequence of uncertainty as to the precise boundaries of these two portions, an order of the Local Government Board, dated 20th May, was issued, under section 23 of the Redistribution of Seats Act, 1885, ordaining that the parish of Misson was intended by that Act to be included, for Parliamentary purposes, entirely in the Basestlaw division of Nottinghamshire. This order was confirmed by Local Government Board Provisional Order Confirmation (County Divisions) Act, 1886. This decision is held by the authorities of the Parts of Lindsey (Lincolnshire) and of Nottinghamshire to place the parish of Misson entirely in Nottinghamshire for all purposes, a view which appears to be justified by sections 50 and 59 of the Local Government Act of 1888 (51 & 52 Vict. c. 41.).

County of OXFORD.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into three Divisions. It also includes part of the Parliamentary Borough of Oxford (City). (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes four Municipal Boroughs (exclusive of the County Borough); the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and is divided into 10 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Banbury, Henley-on Thames, and Oxford have separate Commissions of the Peace; and Banbury and Oxford have, in addition, separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 273 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 10 others; and the County Borough of Oxford contains 15 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 8 others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 234 Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts and parts of 10 others, most of which are in the Diocese of Oxford. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

* Some doubt appears to exist as to the legal boundary of the Municipal Borough of Bridgnorth. The figures here given are for the area recognised by the Town Clerk. The Ordnance Survey Department, however, state that the Borough is co-extensive with the parishes of St. Leonard and St. Mary Magdalen, and that the legal area of the Borough is thus only 1,168 acres.

County of SOMERSET.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into seven Divisions. It also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Bath and Taunton and part of the Parliamentary Borough of Bristol. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes six Municipal Boroughs, exclusive of the County Borough of Bath; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and 22 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Bath, Bridgwater, Wells, and Yeovil have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the Boroughs of Bath and Bridgwater have, in addition, separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 474 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 3 others, and the County Borough of Bath contains six entire Civil Parishes. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 501 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts and parts of 3 others, and is situated partly in the Dioceses of Bath and Wells, Gloucester and Bristol, and Salisbury. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of STAFFORD.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into seven Divisions. It also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Hanley, Newcastle under Lyne, Stafford, Stoke upon Trent, Walsall, Wednesbury, West Bromwich, and Wolverhampton, and part of the Parliamentary Boroughs of Birmingham and Dudley. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes 9 Municipal Boroughs, exclusive of the County Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and is divided into 20 Petty Sessional Divisions; the Municipal Boroughs of Burton upon Trent, Hanley, Lichfield, Longton, Newcastle under Lyne, Stafford, Tamworth, Walsall, West Bromwich, and Wolverhampton have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the Boroughs of Hanley, Lichfield, Newcastle under Lyne, Walsall, West Bromwich, and Wolverhampton have, in addition, separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 231 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 12 others; the County Borough of Hanley contains part of a Civil Parish; the County Borough of Walsall contains one entire Civil Parish and parts of 2 others; the County Borough of West Bromwich one entire Civil Parish; and the County Borough of Wolverhampton one entire Civil Parish. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 320 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, with parts of 17 others, and is principally in the Diocese of Lichfield. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of SUFFOLK.

Suffolk is divided for Administrative purposes into two Counties—East and West—and also contains the County Borough of Ipswich and part of the County Borough of Great Yarmouth. The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the two Administrative Counties, together with the County Borough of Ipswich, are shown in detail in Table 3.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into five Divisions, and includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Bury St. Edmunds and Ipswich, and part of the Borough of Great Yarmouth. (Table 2.)

The Administrative Counties include seven Municipal Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which, where such sub-divisions exist, and of the County Borough are shown in Table 5.

There is one Court of Quarter Sessions for the two Administrative Counties of East and West Suffolk, being usually held at Ipswich for East Suffolk, and then by adjournment at Bury St. Edmunds for West Suffolk. East Suffolk is divided into 11, and West Suffolk into 8 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Bury St. Edmunds, Ipswich, Sudbury, Eye, and Southwold have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the three first-named have also separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County of East Suffolk contains 318, that of West Suffolk 176, and the County Borough 14 entire Civil Parishes; there are besides 6 parishes which are partly in the County Borough and partly in the Administrative County of East Suffolk, and 6 which are partly in West Suffolk and other Administrative Counties. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County of Suffolk contains 448 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts, and parts of 15 others; it is situated partly in the Diocese of Ely and partly in that of Norwich. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of SURREY.

The Ancient or Geographical County of Surrey includes Metropolitan Parishes south of the Thames which now form part of the Administrative County of London. The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient County and those of the Administrative County, together with the County Borough of Croydon, are shown in Table 3.

The Ancient County (exclusive of the Boroughs now in the County of London) is divided for Parliamentary purposes into six Divisions; it also contains the Parliamentary Borough of Croydon. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes five Municipal Boroughs exclusive of the County Borough; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 11 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Croydon, Godalming, Guildford, Kingston on Thames, and Reigate, have separate Commissions of the Peace, and Croydon and Guildford have, in addition, separate Courts of Quarter Sessions (Table 6). The Central Criminal Court has jurisdiction over certain parishes adjacent to London. All those civil parishes within the County of Surrey, of which any part is within 12 miles of, or of which no part is more than 15 miles from Charing Cross, are within the Metropolitan Police District.

The Administrative County contains 133 entire Civil Parishes, and the County Borough of Croydon one entire Civil Parish. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County of Surrey (exclusive of the Parishes now in the County of London) contains 210 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, and parts of 6 others, situated in the Dioceses of Rochester, Winchester, Canterbury, Oxford, and Chichester. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of SUSSEX.

Sussex is divided, for Administrative purposes, into two Counties, East and West, and also contains the County Boroughs of Brighton and Hastings. The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative Counties, together with the County Boroughs, are shown in detail in Table 3.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into six Divisions. It also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Brighton and Hastings. (Table 2.)

The Administrative Counties include six Municipal Boroughs, exclusive of the County Boroughs; the Municipal Ward Sub-divisions, where such Sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

There is one Court of Quarter Sessions for the two Administrative Counties, usually held at Lewes for East Sussex, and then by adjournment at Horsham and Chichester for West Sussex. East Sussex is divided into 11 and West Sussex into 7 Petty Sessional Divisions.

The Port of Hastings, and the Boroughs of Brighton, Chichester, Hastings, and Rye have separate Commissions of the Peace and separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County of East Sussex contains 139 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 9 others; the Administrative County of West Sussex contains 172 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 2 others; the County Borough of Brighton contains one entire Civil Parish and part of one other; and the County Borough of Hastings contains 7 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 3 others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 363 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, with parts of 8 others; and is almost entirely in the Diocese of Chichester. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

* The greater part of this parish is in the Ancient County of Kent; the entire parish contains 163 inhabited houses and 1,037 population.

County of WARWICK.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into four divisions. It also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Aston Manor, Coventry, Warwick and Leamington, and part of the Parliamentary Borough of Birmingham. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes four Municipal Boroughs, exclusive of the County Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and is divided into 14 Petty Sessional Divisions; the Boroughs of Birmingham, Coventry, Royal Leamington Spa, Stratford upon Avon, Sutton Coldfield, and Warwick have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the Boroughs of Birmingham and Warwick have, in addition, separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 247 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 12 others; the County Borough of Birmingham 2 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 3 others; and the County Borough of Coventry parts of 2 Civil Parishes. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 276 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, with parts of 14 others, and is mostly in the Diocese of Worcester. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

* The greater portion of this parish is in the Ancient County of Lancaster; the entire parish contains 81 inhabited houses and 425 population.

† The temporary increase in the population of these ecclesiastical parishes in 1891 was due to the residence in the neighbourhood of navvies employed in constructing the Thirlmere Waterworks.

‡ Some doubt appears to exist as to the precise boundary between this ecclesiastical parish and that of St. Michael, Brough under Stainmore.

County of WILTS.

The boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Wilts are co-extensive.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into five Divisions. It also includes the Parliamentary Borough of Salisbury. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes seven Municipal Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and is divided into 16 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Devizes, Marlborough, and Salisbury have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the Boroughs of Devizes and Salisbury have, in addition, separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 334 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 5 others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 312 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts, with parts of 11 others; and is chiefly in the Dioceses of Sarum or Salisbury, and Gloucester and Bristol. (Table 8).

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of WORCESTER.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into five Divisions. It also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Kidderminster, Worcester, part of Dudley, and parts of the Edgbaston and South Divisions of Birmingham. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes four Municipal Boroughs, exclusive of the County Boroughs; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and is divided into 20 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Borough of Worcester has a separate Commission of the Peace and a separate Court of Quarter Sessions. The Boroughs of Bewdley, Droitwich, Dudley, Evesham, and Kidderminster have separate Commissions of the Peace only. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 223 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 5 others; the County Borough of Dudley 2 entire Civil Parishes; and the County Borough of Worcester, 13 entire Civil Parishes with parts of 3 others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 217 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts with parts of 12 others, and is mostly in the Diocese of Worcester. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of YORK.

The County of York comprises three Ridings, each of which is, for most purposes, a distinct County; there is, however, one Sheriff for the entire County of York. The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical Ridings and those of the Administrative Counties, together with the County Boroughs, are shown in Table 3. The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into 26 Divisions, and includes, besides the City of York, 11 Parliamentary Boroughs and part of the Parliamentary Borough of Stockton on Tees, the greater part of which is in Durham. The Municipal Boroughs of Bradford, Halifax, Huddersfield, Kingston upon Hull, Leeds, Middlesbrough, Sheffield, and the City of York are County Boroughs. The three Administrative Counties of the East, North, and West Ridings contain 1,516 and the 8 County Boroughs 75 entire Civil Parishes; there are besides 21 parishes which are situated partly in the Administrative Counties and partly in the County Boroughs, and 4 which are partly in other Administrative Counties (Table 7).

The Ancient County of York contains 1,135 Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts and parts of 13 others; it is situated partly in the Dioceses of Durham, Lincoln, Manchester, Ripon, Southwell, Wakefield, and York (Table 8).

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

CITY OF YORK.

By the York Improvement and Extension Act of 1884 the Municipal boundaries of the City of York were extended, and such extended boundaries were adopted in the Redistribution of Seats Act of 1885 as the Parliamentary boundaries; the City includes a part of each of the three Ancient Ridings. The Municipal City is a County Borough; it has its own Court of Quarter Sessions and Commission of the Peace.

EAST RIDING.

The Administrative County of the East Riding includes the Municipal Boroughs of Beverley and Hedon; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of the former, and of the County Borough of Kingston upon Hull, are shown in Table 5. The Riding has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 12 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Municipal Boroughs of Kingston upon Hull and Beverley have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the former has also a separate Court of Quarter Sessions (Table 6).

NORTH RIDING.

The Administrative County of the North Riding includes the Municipal Boroughs of Richmond, Scarborough and Thornaby on Tees; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of the two last-named, and of the County, Borough of Middlesbrough, are shown in Table 5. A small part of the Borough of Stockton on Tees is also included. The Riding has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 19 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Municipal Boroughs of Middlesbrough, Richmond, and Scarborough have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the two last-named Boroughs have also separate Courts of Quarter Sessions (Table 6).

WEST RIDING.

The Administrative County of the West Riding includes 12 Municipal Boroughs, the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of which, and of the County Boroughs, where such sub-divisions exist, are shown in Table 5. The Riding has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 26 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Liberty of Ripon also has a separate Court of Quarter Sessions. The Municipal Boroughs of Batley, Dewsbury, Halifax, Harrogate, Huddersfield, Morley, Rotherham, and Wakefield have separate Commissions of the Peace, and those of Bradford, Doncaster, Leeds, Pontefract, and Sheffield have both separate Commissions of the Peace and separate Courts of Quarter Sessions (Table 6).

† The greater part of this parish is in the Ancient County of Lancaster; the entire parish contains 1,057 inhabited houses and 4,803 population.

‡ In consequence of certain portions of the ecclesiastical parishes of Danby, St. Hilda, and Glaisdale being detached from the main portions by moorland which is common to both parishes, it is difficult to determine their exact boundaries; the figures in the above Table for both these parishes show the houses which are reckoned by the Incumbents to belong to their respective parishes, and differ slightly from those given in Table 7 for the Civil Parishes.

* The greater part of this parish is in the Ancient County of Carmarthen; the entire parish contains 406 inhabited houses and 1,658 population.

County of CARMARTHEN.

The Administrative County of Carmarthen is co-extensive with the Ancient or Geographical County.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into two Divisions; it also includes the Carmarthen District of Boroughs, consisting of the contributory Boroughs of Carmarthen and Llanelly. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes the Municipal Boroughs of Carmarthen, Kidwelly, and Llandovery; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of the former are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into eight Petty Sessional Divisions. The Borough of Carmarthen has a Separate Commission of the Peace and Separate Court of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 80 entire Civil Parishes and part of one other. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 75 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts, and parts of seven others; it is included entirely in the Diocese of St. David's. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from Returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

* Consisting of the Contributory Boroughs of Carmarthen (10,300 population) and Llanelly (24,307 population). It is possible that the figures for the Municipal and Contributory Parliamentary Borough of Carmarthen are slightly inaccurate in consequence of difficulty in ascertaining the precise extent of a formerly detached part of Newchurch Civil Parish, now amalgamated with that of St. Peter, but not included within the Borough.

County of CARNARVON.

The difference between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County is shown in detail in Table 3.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into two Divisions; it also includes the Carnarvon District of Boroughs, consisting of the Contributory Boroughs of Bangor (City), Carnarvon, Conway, Criccieth, Nevin, and Pwllheli. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes four Municipal Boroughs, namely, Bangor (City), Carnarvon, Conway, and Pwllheli; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of the two former are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into six Petty Sessional Divisions. The Borough of Carnarvon has a separate Commission of the Peace, but no separate Court of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 71 entire Civil Parishes and parts of two others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 61 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts, and parts of four others; it is included partly in the Diocese of Bangor and partly in that of St. Asaph. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of DENBIGH.

The differences between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Denbigh are shown in detail in Table 3.

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into two Divisions; it also includes the Denbigh District of Boroughs, consisting of the Contributory Boroughs of Denbigh, Holt, Ruthin, and Wrexham.

The Administrative County contains three Municipal Boroughs, namely, Denbigh, Ruthin, and Wrexham; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of the latter are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into nine Petty Sessional Divisions; the Boroughs of Denbigh and Wrexham have Separate Commissions of the Peace, but no separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 88 entire Civil Parishes and parts of six others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 69 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts, and parts of 15 others; it is included entirely in the Diocese of St. Asaph. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of FLINT.

The difference between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Flint is shown in detail in Table 3.

The Ancient County is not divided for Parliamentary purposes; it includes the Flint District of Boroughs (consisting of the Contributory Boroughs of Caergwyle, Caerwys, Flint, Holywell, Mold, Overton, Rhuddlan, and St. Asaph), and a small part of the Parliamentary Borough of Chester (City). (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes only one Municipal Borough, namely, Flint, which is not divided into Municipal Wards. (Table 5.)

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into nine Petty Sessional Divisions; the Borough of Flint has a separate Commission of the Peace, but no Separate Court of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 36 entire Civil Parishes and parts of six others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 46 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts, and parts of 11 others; it is included partly in the Dioceses of Chester, Lichfield, and St. Asaph. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of GLAMORGAN.

The Administrative County of Glamorgan, together with the County Boroughs of Cardiff and Swansea, is nearly co-extensive with the Ancient County. (Tables 3 and 4.)

The Ancient County is divided for Parliamentary purposes into five Divisions; it also includes the Cardiff District of Boroughs (comprising the Contributory Boroughs of Cardiff, Cowbridge, and Llantrisant), part of the Borough of Merthyr Tydfil, and the Borough of Swansea, which contains two divisions, that of Swansea District including the Contributory Boroughs of Aberavon, Kenfig, Loughor, and Neath. (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes three Municipal Boroughs, namely, Aberavon, Cowbridge, and Neath. The Municipal Ward sub-divisions of the County Boroughs of Cardiff and Swansea are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 12 Petty Sessional Divisions. The Boroughs of Cardiff, Swansea, and Aberavon have separate Commissions of the Peace, and the former two have also separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 155, the County Borough of Cardiff three, and that of Swansea three entire Civil Parishes. There are also six Parishes which are situated partly in the County and partly in the County Boroughs, and one parish situated partly in the Administrative County of Monmouth. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 140 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts, and parts of five others; it is situated partly in the Diocese of Llandaff and partly in that of St. David's. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from figures furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

County of PEMBROKE.

The difference between the boundaries of the Ancient or Geographical County and those of the Administrative County of Pembroke is shown in detail in Table 3.

The Ancient County is not divided for Parliamentary purposes; it includes the Pembroke and Haverfordwest District of Boroughs (consisting of the Contributory Boroughs of Fishguard, Haverfordwest, Milford, Narberth, Pembroke, Tenby, and Wiston). (Table 2.)

The Administrative County includes the Municipal Boroughs of Haverfordwest, Tenby, and Pembroke; the Municipal Ward sub-divisions of the latter are shown in Table 5.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into seven Petty Sessional Divisions; the Boroughs of Haverfordwest, Pembroke, and Tenby have separate Commissions of the Peace, and Haverfordwest has also a separate Court of Quarter Sessions. (Table 6.)

The Administrative County contains 153 entire Civil Parishes and parts of 2 others. (Table 7.)

The Ancient County contains 114 entire Ecclesiastical Parishes and Districts, and parts of 5 others; it is entirely included in the Diocese of St. David's. (Table 8.)

The Areas given in the several Tables are derived from returns furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Owing to the number of compound names, and to the want of an absolute authority for the orthography of the names of places, there is much difficulty in compiling an alphabetical index that will afford a ready and unfailing reference in all cases. This difficulty is increased in the case of places the names of which have such prefixes as Great, Little, North, South, East, West, Old, New, Saint, &c., &c. In some cases these prefixes have become incorporated with the name, as in Littlehampton, Northallerton, and Easthampstead; while in others the prefix is sometimes written separately and sometimes not, as for example New Church or Newchurch, West Leigh or Westleigh. In the present Index each name will be found in the place indicated by its ordinary pronunciation, thus East Ham, West Ham, Little Bampton, Nether Witton, Saint Albans, &c. Ecclesiastical parishes or districts having a definite and distinct name are indexed under such name; but if the parish be only known by the name of the Saint to which it is dedicated, it may often be found under the name of the town of which it may form part. Should the name of any place not be readily found, search should be made for it under any probable variation of spelling, or by reference to some other place in its immediate neighbourhood.

The population in 1891 of every place separately set out in the Population Tables is given in the Index, as well as the name of the County and of the Registration District, and the reference number to the Registration District, and to the Sub-District in the case of Civil Parishes, in which such place is situated. The name of the County given in Column 2 of the Index relates in most cases to the Administrative County, but in the case of Ecclesiastical Parishes and of Parliamentary areas it indicates the Ancient County. The respective pages in Vols. I. and II. on which further particulars relating to each place, &c., may be found are also specified. Thus Abbas Combe Civil Parish is in the Administrative County of Somerset, and in Wincanton Registration District, the reference number of the Registration District and Sub-District being 311 : 2; and further particulars respecting this Civil Parish will be found on pages 309 and 313 of Vol. I., and on page 431 of Vol. II.

Registration Districts are generally co-extensive with the Poor Law Unions of the same names; but in a few instances two or more Unions are included within one Registration District, in which cases the name of the Union is added to that of the Registration District in Col. 5.

The term "Civil Parish" implies an area within which a poor rate is separately levied, and consists either of an entire ancient parish, or of one or more highway townships, or other subdivision of an ancient parish, and in some instances of parts of more than one ancient parish.

Places having the letter (n) affixed to their names, are for the most part localities having no definite boundaries, or for which the population was not separately returned at the Census in 1891, referred to in the notes to Table 2 in Vol. II. for such Registration Division.
